Get Link'D REPORT: 19/05/2023

On 19th May, Sumer had the privilege of conducting a seminar at Gokhale Education Society's R. H. Sapat College of Engineering, Management Studies, and Research in Nashik. The seminar covered various topics, including LinkedIn, college life, engineering exams, and placement preparations. It was a memorable experience for both the students and myself, and he was pleased to share the details of the event.

As this was his first seminar outside of Mumbai, he was thrilled to visit Nashik and interact with the students of this esteemed college. The response from the students was overwhelming, and he could see their enthusiasm throughout the seminar. He decided to approach their problems through storytelling, and the students seemed to connect with this method. Their active participation and engagement further motivated him to deliver the best possible content.

The hospitality extended to him during his visit was exceptional. The students took care of all the arrangements, ensuring that everything was in place. He was grateful for his warm welcome and the efforts we put into making the event a success. The support he received from the entire team of E-CELL INOVCREATA, especially Bhushan Karape, Atharva Nikam, Roshan, Tejas, and the entire team, was commendable. Their dedication and hard work in organizing the seminar and other events demonstrate their commitment to providing exposure and opportunities to the college students. He would like to extend his heartfelt appreciation to the entire E-Cell team for their amazing efforts.

During the seminar, he emphasized the significance of LinkedIn in today's professional world. He discussed how students can leverage this platform to enhance their networking, showcase their skills, and explore career opportunities. Additionally, he further shared insights on college life, providing guidance on managing academics, extracurricular activities, and personal growth effectively. Furthermore, we delved into the preparation strategies for engineering exams and placement interviews.

He provided valuable tips and techniques to excel in these crucial phases of a student's academic journey. The interactive nature of the session allowed students to seek clarification on their doubts and gain practical knowledge.

The students thoroughly enjoyed the seminar and expressed their gratitude for the insights shared. It was evident that they found the storytelling approach engaging and relatable. Many students approached me afterward, seeking further guidance and expressing their newfound motivation to excel in their academic pursuits.
